TAPE: Performer may begin standing or sitting as we hear interview voices.

TRACK 1

I was 9... Nice tits...

I was 9, 12, 16, 19. I heard that all throughout my life, I'm sure. You would be so pretty if you just lost some weight.

Age 8 - "Don't worry Lonna, she's an ugly duckling now... but maybe later she'll blossom into something better later."

I think I was about 12 when my dad told me for the first time that I had "piano legs," meaning that they were short and stocky.

Age 13- I don't want to have to look at your arms

"Bitch Tits" age 14

From age 15 on-You are the hairiest guy I have ever seen!

I immediately recalled a memory from my teenage years when I was dating my first boyfriend (I was 15 back then) and how he suggested me once undergoing a plastic surgery to get my breasts augmentated. He wasn't like trying to make me do it, he just really seemed to like the idea and I guess for him it was a totally normal and harmless subject, as if he would tell me to think about trying a new hair colour (which would be problematic anyway). The worst part about this was that after he said that, I was actually considering it. And from that moment on, I've kept controlling myself over and over, waiting for my breasts to grow at least a bit.

Begin scratch tone

"If you keep gaining weight, boys won't want to date you." My dad - age 15

You've got moles all over your face, so let's call you 'moley'

Age 15- She probably can't feel anything through all the blubber on that belly

1. Sanguine

